learn what you can do to resolve complaints

self-help for consumers

The best way to protect yourself from fraud, scams, or problems is to be aware of potential pitfalls ahead of time. If that isn't enough, you should also know what you can do to resolve complaints. Here are some tips for both:

before you buy

- * Make sure any professional you hire has the required license:
  - 1 For professionals licensed by the Department on Consumer Affairs (health care providers, accountants, security guards, cosmetologists, auto repair shops, contractors, and more), visit www.dca.ca.gov or call 800.952.5210.
  - 2 For other types of California professional licenses, visit www.consumerservices.ca.gov. Click the "license verification" tab.
- * Get a written copy of guarantees and warranties.
- * Ask about the refund, return, and exchange policy.
- * Don't sign any contract or legal document until you read and understand it. Insist that any extras you are promised are put in writing.

after you buy

- * Save the paperwork: contracts, sales receipts, cancelled checks, owner's manuals, warranty documents, etc.
- * Be sure to follow the service and use instructions in the owner's manual. The way you use or take care of a product could affect your warranty.

solving a problem

- * Check with your credit card company. You may have the right to withhold payment if the product or service is unsatisfactory.
- * Complain as soon as possible. A letter to the manager of the business that sold the product or performed the service is usually effective. Keep copies of all correspondence.

filing a complaint

If a letter to the manager does not resolve the problem, you may want to file a complaint with the following:

- * Department of Consumer Affairs. File a complaint online at www.dca.ca.gov or call 800.952.5210 to have a complaint form mailed to you.
- * California Attorney General's Office. File a complaint online at www.ag.ca.gov.
- * The Better Business Bureau. Go to www.bbb.org, or consult your phone directory for a local office.
- * The District Attorney's Office in your county. Consult your phone directory under "county offices."

other options

A neutral third party may be able to help resolve a dispute between a consumer and a business. For more information about complaint resolution services, visit www.dca.ca.gov or call 800.952.5210.

small claims court

If other attempts to resolve your dispute have failed, you may be able to file a claim in Small Claims Court. Consult DCA's publication The Small Claims Court: A Guide to Its Practical Use. Find it online at www.dca.ca.gov, or call 800.952.5210 to have a printed copy mailed to you.

The online California Courts Self-Help Center, sponsored by the Judicial Council, also has information on Small Claims Courts at www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp.
